

OPEN DOORS - THERAPEUTIC FARM AND CAMP- ANDERSON COUNTY, TN

Open Doors of Tennessee is an organization that is committed to providing inclusion opportunities, resources, accessibility information, and new programs for families of individuals with disabilities.

CDC with the help of Volunteer Nathan Hunter, Landscape Architect, developed drawings for the non profit to describe their proposed therapeutic camp for disabled children on 7 acres of land in Anderson County.

The master plan includes camping in 6 teepees, trails, a pond for canoeing, paddle boats and fishing, a playground and splash pad, a house, a barn, and other amenities.
